

CONTENTS

Berezianska V.

Personality adaptation of oncology sick people.
Transactional analysis approach..... 10-20

Vernik O.

Tutoring as a way of ecologizing the family and educational environments of a teenager's life activity... 21-30

Vovchyk-Blakytna O., Gurleva T.

The child and the living environment:
the ecologization of space..... 31-40

Kyrpenko T.

Function of will in the system of psychological regulation of lifestyle ..... 41-48

Klimanska M.

Psychological features of perception of the apartment houses ..... 49-60

Klymenko I.

The situation of uncertainty and the role of tolerance as part of social and psychological adaptation of students-police officers ..... 61-70

Kotik I.

Value-sense regulation of social boundaries and reliable authenticity of the individual ..... 71-83

Litvinchuk M.

Modern views on the problem of psychological dependence of addicts ..... 84-94

Lyuta L.

The dynamics of travel requests in modern society .... 95-102

Ovchinnikova A.

Psychological competence of specialists of socionomic professions..... 103-115

|                                                                                                                                                                                                              |         |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------|
| Paniotova D.                                                                                                                                                                                          |         |
| Interdependence of the ideology of liberalismand conservatism with the importanceof caring on the environment – empiricalverification on the example of Ukraine, Polandand Switzerland ..... | 116-126 |
| Rudomino-Dusiatska O.                                                                                                                                                                                 |         |
| Organizational-methodical bases of researchof identity of a person as determinantsof ecologically-oriented daily activity .....                                                                      | 127-135 |
| Savchenko H.                                                                                                                                                                                          |         |
| Socionomic features of professional-psychologicalreadiness for judicial activities article considerscurrent issues of psychological nature ofenforcement activities of judges .....              | 136-147 |
| Tkach T.                                                                                                                                                                                              |         |
| Psychospołeczny charakter zmian naprzeszerzeni Życia .....                                                                                                                                               | 148-157 |
| Shwalb Yu.                                                                                                                                                                                            |         |
| Difficult life circumstances as an objectof psychological practice .....                                                                                                                                 | 158-169 |
| Our authors (ukr.) .....                                                                                                                                                                              | 170-171 |
| Our authors .....                                                                                                                                                                                     | 172-173 |